

Many roofing companies do not carry any advanced manufacturer credentials.

Some roofing companies have gone through the rigor of securing advanced certifications with just one or two of the major shingle manufacturers.

Roof Right has earned all four shingle manufacturers' advanced credentials.

Only licensed and insured roofing contractors who demonstrate a commitment to the highest standards, exceptional customer service, and long-term stability can earn these credentials.

To qualify for a full-system, non-prorated warranty, manufacturers require homeowners to hire a certified contractor and use their brand of roof accessories—including underlayment, starter shingles, shingles, ridge vents, and ridge caps.

(Refer to each manufacturer's warranty for specific details.)

Roof Right has earned ALL FOUR prestigious shingle manufacturers' advanced credentials.

Why is this important? Advanced credentials don't just ensure a high-quality installation—they also allow Roof Right to offer a full, non-prorated system warranty directly from the manufacturer. When combined with Roof Right's exclusive Lifetime Labor & Installation Warranty, you get the strongest protection available for your home.

While many shingles are marketed as "lifetime," all manufacturers prorate their warranties—typically starting around year 10—meaning the coverage decreases over time. Only manufacturer-certified contractors can offer full-system, non-prorated warranties that maintain their value throughout the life of the roof.
